MR. O'BRIEN IN TORONTO.

A LARGE CROWD AWAITS HIM AT THE UNION DEPOT.

He Goes to His Hotel Unmolested Where a Reception is Held and an Address of Welcome Read to Him—Mr. O'Brien Greatly Moved Over the Address.

TORONTO, May 18.—Editor O'Brien arrived here from Montreal at 10 this morning, and was driven to the Rossin house unmolested. There was a large crowd about the Union depot. Mr. O'Brien was accompanied by Dennis Kilbride, the evicted tenant, and they were received by the executive committee of the local branch of the league. As the visitors stepped from the train to the station they were greeted with lusty cheers, mingled with groans from the Orangemen. At noon an informal reception was held and addresses read.

At the Rossin house a large crowd had assembled on the street and the corridors were crowded. When O'Brien made his appearance cheers were called for Lansdowne and given heartily. Cheers were then called for O'Brien and were given as heartily as the others. When O'Brien entered the hotel the crowd in the corridor again called for cheers for Lansdowne followed by cheers for O'Brien and groans. O'Brien took up a position on the bottom steps of the stairway and his friends were introduced to him, among them being many ladies. Secretary Cahill, of the local branch of the Land league, then stepped forward and read the following address:

"TO WILLIAM O'BRIEN, EDITOR OF UNITED IRELAND: On behalf of the Irish Nationalists of this city, we welcome you to Toronto. The prominent position which you have held both as a journalist and as a politician in the ranks of the Irish Nationalists, and the activity and earnestness with which you have always aided the great Irish leader, have placed your name among those most revered by all Irishmen throughout the world. A strong and earnest manner in which you have advocated the rights of the evicted tenants of Ireland, and brought to light the cruelty and oppression of their arrogant landlords deserves the praise and sympathy of all liberal minded men. In the Irish National party, and in members of it, such as yourself, sir, the peasants and working classes not only of Ireland but of the world have the best advocates of their rights and liberties. The success of the great Liberal party of England and our own Irish National party is progress to humanity. The Irish Nationalists of Toronto extend to you their best wishes for the success of your present undertaking, feeling certain that the motives which impel you to appeal to the freedom-loving people of Canada are motives deserving of our warmest sympathy and support. The many eminent services which you have rendered to the Irish people are a sufficient testimony of your mission. We have not yet forgotten the gallant fight you made in defence of the liberties of our countrymen when Forest ruled at Dublin Castle. Your exposure of the character and conduct of the rulers of Ireland was another of the many great actions for which we owe you a debt of thanks. Your present mission will be inseparably connected with a master stroke of policy which you have devoted all your energy and great abilities to carry to a successful issue. The wonderful results of that policy are apparent in the peace and order prevailing throughout Ireland, and it is no exaggeration to say that it has preserved the homes and happiness, not to mention the lives, of thousands of our fellow-countrymen in Ireland. The plan of campaign is the safety of the Irish tenantry, and your advocacy of that plan has endeared you to the hearts of your race all over the world. Once more we express to you our earnest wishes for your welfare, and pray God to grant that success to your endeavors on behalf of a defenseless people which is merited by the justice and reasonableness of your mission.

"J. A. MULLIGAN, President.
"DANIEL P. CAHILL, Sec'y of N. League."
There were also a dozen other names attached to the address. Mr. O'Brien, who appeared deeply moved, in replying said that his heart was overflowing with gratitude for the way his countrymen had received him. It was a recognition of the risks they incurred in siding with him against the powerful lord he had come to arraign. He would not forget it he lived a hundred years. He did not refer to personal threats, but to the fact that no citizen of Canada would be intimidated by having revolvers thrust in their faces or by threats of violence. Summer friends are easy to obtain, but the present case was one in which the test was made of the loyalty to the cause. God bless the whole Canadian people for the fair play shown him and insisted upon by them.

At the conclusion of the speech cheers were called for and given for Lansdowne and counter cheers for O'Brien.

An Enterprising Capitalist.

DODGE CITY, Kan., May 18.—Hon. A. T. Soule, of Rochester, N. Y., who built at his own expense a canal nine miles long, for irrigating purposes, at the expense of $1,000,000, has announced his intention of extending it so that one million acres of land hereabouts will always yield a full crop. He has donated $50,000 to the Presbyterian college located here and has bought the First National bank for $75,000, and also the Dodge City water works.

Kalamazoo Celery Crop a Failure.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., May 18.—The season thus far has been the driest known for years. In the great gardens surrounding this city vegetation is suffering terribly, and even on low celery lands the effects of the protracted drouth are becoming noticeable. The loss of the celery crop means the loss of several hundred thousand dollars. The first crop is already damaged greatly, and unless rain falls in a few days it will be a total failure.

Yale Theological Alumni.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 18.—The alumni of the Yale theological school will meet here Wednesday and it seems likely that the Hume-Andover controversy will be brought up for discussion and an effort made to have the alumni commit itself as a body to the principal of the old old school congregationalism against the Hume theory of probation after death.

DARING TRAIN ROBBERY.

Four Robbers Go Through a Train in Louisville—Two of Them Captured.

LOUISVILLE, May 18.—A most daring double train robbery occurred at the Fourteenth street depot last night at 8 o'clock. Four highwaymen boarded the outgoing trains on the Ohio & Mississippi and Jeffersonville, Madison & Indianapolis routes, and held up several persons on each, but as the trains immediately left the city it is not known how much money the robbers obtained.

The highwaymen boarded the trains as the passengers mounted the car platform and pounced upon and rifled them. They were finally discovered by Officers Tate and Clarke and a lively chase occurred. Tate shot four times at them but they all succeeded in escaping. Two men were arrested this morning in New Albany, Ind., and identified by the train newsboy as two of the gang. One of the men refused to come to Kentucky without a requisition. The other, who gave his name as John Harbinson, came over the river without trouble.

KING KALAKUA'S SCHEME.

A Rumor That Samoa and Tonga are to Be Annexed to His Kingdom.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Some stir has been caused in certain quarters here by the news from the South Pacific that King Kalakua is about to annex Samoa and Tonga. C. S. Spreckels, who is striving to establish large sugar plantations in Samoa to make up for the trade he has lost in Hawaii, is believed to be the author of the story of Kalakua's vaulting ambition. Some time ago King Maletoa, of Samoa, who has been terrorized by his subjects and various foreign consuls, applied to the king of the Sandwich Islands to annex his unhappy kingdom to the Hawaiian group, and let the Samoans become the vassals of mighty Kalakua, the most powerful sovereign of the race.

Recently Kalakua sent a commission to the Sandwich Islands, not to effect annexation, it is said, but to cultivate friendly relations and frame a treaty of commerce. The royal yacht will soon sail with the king and his favorite advisers for Australia by way of Tonga and Samoa.

A Peculiar Tragedy.

NEW ORLEANS, May 18.—Information of a peculiar tragedy has just been received from the Parish of Ascension. On Ascension plantation William Leman, a colored boy twelve years of age, shot Mrs. Michael Gioja, the wife of an Italian laborer on the same place. The woman died from her wounds Wednesday morning and the coroner held an inquest at which the following facts were elicited: The boy Leman became involved in a quarrel with the little son of Mrs. Gioja, and seized a hoe as if to strike his youthful antagonist. The mother witnessing the act, rushed to the protection of the child, when the boy Leman fled to his father's house, pursued by the angry mother. Arriving there he entered and closed the door behind him. Mrs. Gioja made an effort to enter when the boy, seizing a pistol, fired through an aperture in the door, inflicting the wound that resulted in death. The boy was arrested and is now in the parish prison.

Pleading for Hoke.

PEORIA, Ill., May 18.—The leading counsel for J. Finley Hoke, the alleged embezzling bookkeeper for the Merchants' bank, Hon. Leonard Swett, of Chicago, has reached here and the prisoner was brought into court. The greater portion of the day was consumed in argument pro and con on a motion to file special pleas in answer to the indictment instead of the general answer of not guilty. The court finally allowed special pleas to be filed, but did not allow the plea of not guilty to be withdrawn, and assigned Tuesday of next week as the day for the hearing on the charge of forgery, on which Hoke was extradited. Hoke has a regular army of counsel, and the legal fight will be an interesting one. The jurisdiction of the court to try Hoke for other than the charge on which he was extradited will be the first question raised by the defense.

The Pan-Handle Robbers to Be Released.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 18.—It is definitely hinted from a most authoritative source that as soon as John H. Hampton recovers from his present indisposition some arrangement will be made whereby the indictments against a number of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati & St. Louis railway robbers will be questioned by the prosecution. The railroad management is satisfied that the stealing is at an end, and beyond prosecuting a few of the ring-leaders now in jail nothing more will be done. A number of lawyers interested in the defense more or less confirmed the above statement, but refused to allow the use of their names in support of it.

Catholic Churches Crowded With Knights.

MONTREAL, May 18.—The Roman Catholic churches were crowded yesterday and today with Knights of Labor, who are availing themselves of the last days of Cardinal Taschereau in his last mandament to comply with the instructions therein contained, viz., of doing penance and making confessions to the parish priest that they have joined the order. Those who have confessed to being members of the order were not, it is said, directed to leave it by the priests, and it is now believed the church will not oppose the order in future.

A Polish Celebration.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 18.—The Polish colony in the town of Alden had a big celebration yesterday in honor of several marriages. At one of them the brother of the bride of a man named Molinski quarrelled with Anthony Czenki over the relative merits of some of the party. The former pulled a pistol and shot Czenki in the abdomen. The last report received states that Czenki is dead, and the murderer has been arrested.

Montana Stock.

HELENA, Mont., May 18.—Prominent stockmen just returned from a tour of their ranges, report an unexcelled prospect for a fine grass crop. The losses of cattle during the winter were large, fully 95 per cent., but with better prices in prospect cattlemen, they say, will hardly feel it.

A Crash in Jewelry.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 18.—J. Ganel, jeweler, 523 Nicollet avenue, made an assignment this morning to J. F. Conklin. Liabilities about $8,000, assets claimed to be about the same. The creditors are all New York firms.

LABOR AGAINST CAPITAL.

STATE OF AFFAIRS IN THE CHICAGO BUILDING TRADES' TROUBLES.

But Very Few Men Employed and Work on Nine-Tenths of the Building in Course of Erection Have Been Stopped—The Troubles in Assembly 40—Notes.

CHICAGO, May 18.—The Bricklayers' union has decided to send a committee of conference to the building trades' council. A special meeting of the council will be held at Greenbaum's hall to meet the bricklayers and devise some means whereby a solid front can be presented to the bosses. The bricklayers claim they have assurance that the international union will forbid its members coming to Chicago during the lockout.

Notwithstanding the claim put forth by certain labor leaders that the majority of their members are at work, it is admitted by the men themselves, and by some of the officers, that there are but a very few men employed, and that nine-tenths of the buildings in course of erection have been stopped. The number of idle men increases from day to day, as jobs reach a stage where work can not be continued without loss.

Among the master masons and contractors everything awaits for the initial meeting of the conference committees. Then will be shown the first real strength of the combination among the material men, and an idea can be formed as to its permanency. Already some of the smaller lime dealers are objecting vigorously to being obliged to refuse orders, while a rich concern like Stearns & Company, are selling to every one. Stearns & Company is the only important firm that has refused to sign the boycotting agreement, and their action has aroused the ire of the master builders.

The requests for permits to finish jobs are diminishing in number, most jobs being finished up to the gutting point. An exception is made in favor of the plasterers, who are allowed to continue to end any work on which they had begun previous to the declaration of the lockout, but no new work is permitted to be taken in hand.

Henry Sweet, who claims to have a brickyard with a capacity of 200,000 a day, is unknown at the builders' exchange, although the bricklayers' union say that after Monday he will furnish them with his chimed capacity if they so desire.

Montauk's Troubles.

NEW YORK, May 18.—For about the tenth time in two years the case of the Montauk association, Knights of Labor, of Brooklyn, in its struggle for separate existence from District Assembly 49, of this city, was rehearsed last night, and the conclusion was the same as on all former occasions.

T. B. Barry and T. B. Maguire were appointed a special committee of the general executive board to make the investigation, and they met committees from the Brooklyn association and 49 in Pythagoras hall last night. The two sides of the controversy were ably represented, but the result was apparently a foregone conclusion. It was reported after the meeting that the Montauks would not get a charter, and as the local assemblies comprising the association have been suspended, and are not, therefore, considered members of the order, it remains for them to declare what they will do now.

It is said that Mr. McGuire asked the Brooklynites, among other questions, whether they would return to the fold of 49. They said they would not, neither would they pay up their dues to that assembly. It was stated that they had performed all the duties of knighthood, and had done nothing to forfeit their membership. They desired only home rule, and if they did not have that they would get along outside the order. Their field was Brooklyn and Long Island, which was large enough for them, and there was plenty of work to do there. They were determined to do their best for labor, and should exist regardless of the order.

Three Thousand Out.

HAVERTHILL, Mass., May 18.—Owing to the failure of a compromise being agreed upon last evening between the executive of the Knights of Labor and the Manufacturer's association in regard to the troubles at Chick Brothers' shoe factory, forty manufacturing establishments closed their doors this morning, throwing out of employment about three thousand persons. The state board of arbitration has been appealed to, and hopes are entertained of a speedy settlement.

CANADA'S NEW TARIFF.

Rolling Mill Men Protest Against the Great Increase of Duty.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 18.—The city is full of deputations representing a score of industries dissatisfied with the new tariff changes. The iron men are particularly exercised. The rolling mill men waited on the minister of finance and protested against the increase of duty from $1.70 to $10 per ton on puddled bars, billets and steel slabs. Mr. Tupper, in reply, said that the government had determined to encourage the making of this class of iron equally with pig iron.

The nail and horseshoe manufacturers claimed that their protection had practically disappeared under the tariff changes. Mr. Tupper said that if they could show the protection they required he would endeavor to meet their views. The iron importers asked that existing contracts be exempted from the operations of the tariff. Mr. Tupper thought that request reasonable, and will propose in the house alterations to meet the importers' views.

Warned, But Did Not Heed.

EMMENEC, Ky., May 18.—Sam Kelly, aged sixteen, and a married man named John Hoskins quarreled over a pack of cards at Lockport. Kelly had been hunting and had with him a musket loaded with slugs. The man abused the boy, who repeatedly warned him away. Finally the big coward started for Sam with an open knife, and the boy fired, one slug going through Hoskins' hip and another striking Charley Payne, an innocent bystander, in the neck. Both will probably die. Kelly fled and has not yet been captured.

GREENADA, Miss., May 18.—Jack Holbrook, a carpenter, was stabbed and killed here yesterday by E. J. Lowenstein, a restaurant keeper. The cause which led to the deed is unknown.

THE MURDER OF T. F. MCNAIR.

The Widow Relates the Awful Story of the Assassination.

JACKSON, Ga., May 18.—Mrs. McNair, wife of the man who was assassinated in Worthville, reached this place yesterday, and gives a graphic description of the tragedy. Mr. T. F. McNair had incurred the hatred of the community because of the killing of a man named Hardy. He had been tried for the offense and acquitted. As the people believed it to be a case of murder, they freely denounced McNair's acquittal, and he was the recipient of frequent notices of warning, in which assassination was hinted at. For some months, however, there had been a cessation of the notices, and McNair and his wife began to forget them. A little after midnight on Saturday morning a voice as of some one in trouble aroused the couple. When McNair inquired the matter the man on the outside answered that his buggy had broken down and that he could not see to mend it without a light. McNair lit his lamp and started out with it when the report of two guns was heard and the victim fell dead.

One of the men then walked up close to the body and fired from a pistol two shots more. When Mrs. McNair attempted to come out a dozen shots against the front of the house warned her not to venture out. The assassins retreated from the house. They kept up the fusillade, making their escape before the woman could venture out. By the dawning light of day she examined the body of her dead husband, thirteen buckshot being found in his neck alone. The tracks of the assassins were followed to an adjoining swamp, where they were lost. There is no doubt but that the assassins were friends of the murdered man, Hardy.

A War of Words.

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—A bitter war of words has been indulged in between the Rev. Madison C. Peters, pastor of the Northern Liberties Presbyterian church, and the Camden members whom he had inveighed against on Sunday in his sermon on "Camden Elements." Rev. Isaac W. Bayley, Rev. J. J. Sleeper and Rev. John Y. Dobbins are among those who come in for a share of criticism in Mr. Peters' sermon, and they are very angry. Mr. Peters said to-day: "Bagley threatens me with physical violence, but I am not afraid of him. I don't think either Mr. Bagley or Mr. Sleeper will try to thrash me, for if they should they will be sick of the bargain. I may be a 'boy,' even a Pennsylvania Dutchman," as Bagley says, but I can defend myself. I believe Bagley is ashamed of himself now; but if he should attack me he would find out what stuff Pennsylvania clergymen are made of. I shall not seek him in order to thrash him nor even write him a reply to his tirade."

Refuses to Contribute to the Jubilee.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Andrew Carnegie, writing from the Isle of Wight, in reply to a request that he contribute to the fund for the proposed celebration of the queen's jubilee in New York, says he cannot comply for several reasons. He is an American citizen and a staunch Republican—a man who rejects the monarchical idea as insulting to his manhood. He should stultify himself were he to help celebrate the reign of any hereditary sovereign, and he can't see what Americans have to do with this particular celebration anyway.

Death of Dr. John Treon.

MIAMI, Fla., May 18.—Dr. John Treon, aged ninety-seven, one of the oldest and most prominent pioneers in Montgomery county, died here yesterday noon. He was born in Pennsylvania in 1791, and came here in 1811, when this place was called Hole's station. For years he practiced medicine in the Miami valley, and for fifty years was known from Dayton to Cincinnati. In his day he was a noted surgeon and Mason and was twice married. Reed Commandery, of Dayton, will conduct the funeral services.

Wants to See Von der Ahe's Books.

ST. LOUIS, May 18.—W. K. Spinney, a stockholder in the Sportsmen's Park association, of which the champions are the great attraction, has begun mandamus proceedings in the circuit court against President Von der Ahe. He swears that he owns ten shares of stock and that he has been denied permission to inspect the books. He asks that Von der Ahe produce the cash book, ledger and stock book, showing the transactions for three years. The writ was granted and made returnable Thursday.

Accomplished His Mission.

RANEE, La., May 18.—Joseph Collins yesterday shot and killed Adrien Chapman, a colored man. Collins came to town with a double barreled shot gun, loaded with buckshot, and told his friends that he intended to kill Chapman. Collins walked up to his victim at the depot and fired the charge into his head and breast, killing him instantly. The murderer was arrested.

Ex-Senator Camden is Railroaded.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 18.—Ex-Senator J. N. Camden and a party of Pennsylvania and New York capitalists—owners of the Ohio River railroad, left this morning on a tour of the road. They will hold an important meeting at Parkersburg, when measures will be discussed looking to an extension and improvement of the line.

Colored Boy Drowned.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 18.—Hal Mason, a colored youth, was drowned in Elk river, near this city, while bathing yesterday. Mason could not swim, but was taken on the back of John Hawkins, who got beyond his depth. The latter found that both would be drowned, and threw Mason off in order to save himself.

Fierce Forest Fires.

EU CLAIRE, Wis., May 18.—Passengers on the Wisconsin Central from the north report fires raging in the pines along the north fork of the Flambeau river with fierceness. The woods never were known to be so dry as they are at present, and it is feared much standing pine will be destroyed.

Death of Dollie Fellows.

RICHMOND, Ind., May 18.—Mrs. William Huston, wife of the well known lively stable man of Indianapolis, died here at 7 o'clock last evening of measles. Mrs. Huston was the daughter of Capt. James W. Fellows, of Cincinnati, and was well known in that city. She was aged about twenty-five years and was the bride of but a few months.

State Finances.

The Daily Republican has been talking about the State finances for some time, and those who are always ready to accept mere statements for facts may have come to the conclusion that the Democrats have either been stealing right along or have been guilty of gross mismanagement of affairs at Frankfort. If there has been any stealing, the Republican has failed to point out the thief. That there has not been any stealing is evidenced by the fact that all funds have been accounted for by the officials in whose hands those funds have been held.

Readers should be slow in accepting as correct and true the mere statements of the Daily Republican, even when such statements are backed up by figures. That the Republican's figuring and talking cannot be relied upon as correct and true is only too well evidenced by the indisputable fact that it had to acknowledge, a few weeks ago, a mistake of about $800,000 made in publishing only a few figures. The junior editor of the Republican, who has been figuring so much on State finances of late, and who has been writing such long-winded articles on the subject, is the individual who made this mistake. The mistake was entirely inexcusable, and was one which no prudent and careful writer would make. It characterizes the junior editor, not only as a careless, but even a reckless writer.

Here is the way it happened: The junior editor got hold of a report showing the work of the State Board of Equalization as to assessment of Mason County. In one column was the assessed value and in another the Board value. Including the totals there were just five items of figures in each column. In the next issue of the Daily Republican the junior editor attempted to give a verbatim statement of this report, but made a miserable botch of it. The statement that he published was badly garbled, whether intentionally or not we will not say. One of the five items of figures was left entirely out, and the report, as published in the Republican, showed an increase of over $600,000 made by the Board in the assessment of Mason County, when the correct report, as published in the BULLETIN, showed a reduction of over $225,000—the junior editor's mistake amounting, as we said before, to over $800,000. The Republican of that issue did its accustomed little yawning—the burden of its cry being that the Democratic State Board of Equalization had raised the assessment of Mason County, and the poor, oppressed citizens would now have more taxes to pay. As we said before, the mistake was entirely inexcusable, and was an exhibition of recklessness and carelessness not often met with.

If the junior editor makes such glaring mistakes in publishing five items of figures, what has he done in giving the long clippings from the Auditor's reports? Owing to the many demands upon our time we have had no opportunity to look into the figures he gives. The editor of the Courier-Journal has been giving some attention to State finances, however, and we copy the following from that paper:

In 1885 the assets of the Sinking Fund were as follows:

Internal improvements.....$4,836,475 00
 Bonds and railroads.....1,532,819 50
 Amount in the Treasury.....130,666 83
 Loan to Revenue Department.....105,000 00
 Interest on same.....9,000 00
 Amount not transferred.....105,039 01
 Loan to Military Fund.....300,000 00
 In Farmers' Bank.....430,522 46
 Bank of America.....100,000 00

War claim.....$7,638,493 80
 Total.....$19,801,822 50

Now for the other side of the account:

State debt in 1885.....$5,254,346 00
 Depreciation on internal improvements.....4,836,475 00
 Uncollected war claim.....200,000 00

Total.....$10,290,821 00

In 1885 the total State debt was $690,864, exclusive of educational fund, with sinking fund assets of $711,546. The depreciation in turnpike stock and other similar assets is due to the fact that in 1885 they were carried on the books at cost; in 1885 at real value.

A Good Work.

A fine piece of work has just been completed by the County Superintendent of Schools, L. W. Galbraith. He has prepared a substantial blank book, a detailed description of the boundary and location of every common school district, white and colored, in the county, together with a map of the district showing roads, streams, villages, &c. A duplicate of the description has been supplied, in a smaller book, to the trustees of each district. A most creditable showing is made by comparing these records with any which were left in office by any previous incumbent. When the Court of Claims meets it would be showing a proper sort of appreciation to increase the compensation of this office—Daily Republican.

The above is a just recognition of a most excellent piece of work, the need and use of which will be apparent to any one who will inquire into the condition of our school districts a year or so ago. There is much work yet, before our schools become what they should be, and with proper encouragement our Superintendent will see that 'tis done.

COLONEL BRADLEY is very anxious to begin the fight with General Buckner. The Colonel is apt to have his hands full before the race is ended.

As a "wind-jammer" it is said the Hon. Wm. O. Bradley is a hummer. The Colonel will find out before General Buckner is through with him that talks cheap but it takes votes to elect a Governor.

The Court of Claims of Fayette County reconsidered its action in the matter of the Kentucky Union Railroad, and has submitted to the legal voters of that county a proposition to subscribe $50,000 to the enterprise. The city of Lexington is asked for $150,000.

"Nip't in the Bud"

Sad to say, many a good thing attains to nothing more than a fair beginning. On the other hand it is a matter for congratulation that the growth of some evil things may be also promptly frustrated. A large proportion of the cases of the most wide-spread and fatal of diseases—consumption have their inception in nasal catarrh. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is pleasant, soothing and effectual. Try it. It has cured thousands. All druggists.

SHANNON.

Between four and five hundred people turned out to the funeral of Mrs. Charles Bland, at Shannon, on Monday last. Rev. D. A. Wardley, founded his discourse on the eleventh chapter of Hebrews, twenty-fourth verse. His method of treatment was peculiarly his own. A very specially ducency in utterance, the intuitive perception of the right words, ease of movement, refinement and elegance of manner, a chaste and finished delivery, a warm and glowing sympathy characterized his sermon. The floral offerings, the crosses and pillow, borne by the grandchildren of the deceased, were symbolic and highly suggestive. The songs of consolation sung by Miss Lella Wheeler, assisted by Mrs. Lucy Keith and Misses Newell and Shackelford, were sweetly rendered. Mrs. Lizzie Tyler Bland embodied religion at the age of fifteen, she died at the age of sixty years, and died in its triumphs in her sixtieth year.

A PLEA FOR "CASTLES IN THE AIR."

Amid the myriad troubles that meet us day by day, Who would not from the conflict a moment turn away, And in a far off fairy land, where men no burdens bear, Forget awhile our tears and toll in "Castles in the air?"

When many a bright hued prospect fades fast beyond our view, And hopes which neared fruition prove shadowy and untrue; May we not in that dreamland, beyond all clouds and care, Behold our paradise restored in "Castles in the air?"

Oh, there are lonely chambers in every home and heart— And in life's song of sorrow each one must bear a part.

But hark! what mystic melodies soon hush the voice of care, As parted hands are clasped once more in "Castles in the air."

Then never grow discouraged, though fortune favors not, And we pursue life's pilgrimage unnoticed or forgot; We have an hour of victory and lustrous laurels wear— For all are kings and conquerors in "Castles in the air."

A NEW AMERICAN INDUSTRY.

Making Wine from Oranges—Utilizing the Surplus in a Good Way.

The wonderful crop of oranges which has been produced in California has led to the manufacture of a new and non-alcoholic wine from that fruit. A gentleman who has traveled extensively in California, in conversation with a reporter thus described the process: "In San Gabriel, Los Angeles county, Cal., where the sweet navel or seedless orange grows to great perfection and in large quantities, the Mexican residents made from it a wine, not unlike the May wine of the Germans. This wine, of course, had to be consumed at once or it would spoil. But the idea was suggested by this practice that good wine could be made from sweet oranges, and the question was how to make the wine so that it could become a marketable and profitable commodity. As soon as the sowing was overcome, more money had to be invested. This was accomplished after considerable money had been lost. The sweetest oranges are selected, those of the navel or seedless kind; but not until they are fully ripe. Oranges when shipped to market for eating are generally packed green and ripen on the way. Not so with those used for wine. When gathered, a machine removes the peel, leaving only the juicy pulp. The pulp is placed in a large vat, with layers of the Angelica grape sugar. The pulp and sugar are allowed to remain together about three weeks, when, by the aid of a jack-screw press worked by machinery, the whole of the juice is squeezed out. This is run off into casks and purified every month for about two or three years. It is kept from souring by the addition of distilled glycerine preservatives, and at the end of that time is considered fit for general use. It is drawn off into casks of a commercial capacity and is ready for shipment.

"As transportation, especially to a distance, would cause the wine to muddle, it is again refined at the end of the journey and the dregs precipitated before it is put into bottles, in which condition it is sold to the general public. The wine has already been exported to England and many parts of Europe."

"Is not the wine fermented in some way?" "Not at all. It is purely the juice of the orange, a simple fruit wine, and contains no alcoholic spirits whatever. People eat oranges after meals as a digestive; now they can partake of the pure juice alone for the same reason. I think it will soon outrival any of the mild drinks of the present day."

"Then it is simply a still wine without any intoxicating qualities?" "Yes, in its original form. But it can be made into a sparkling wine by the introduction of carbonic gas. By diluting the orange juice one-half, and adding the gas, a beverage equal to champagne can be produced, without any of its intoxicating or enervating effects. This has been done, and temperance drinkers have been delighted with it. As a summer drink it is far better, according to medical men, than lime or lemon juice, as it does not leave such bad results as sometimes follow the drinking of lemonade."

JUDGE PHISTER'S FUNERAL.

The Services Attended by a Large Crowd of the Friends of the Family and Members

Of DeKalb and Ringgold Lodges, I. O. O. F.—Resolutions of Respect By the Members of the Mason Bar.

The funeral of Judge E. C. Phister took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the family residence on Third street. The services were attended by a large number of the friends and relatives of the deceased. The attorneys of the Mason Bar were present in a body, and the members of DeKalb and Ringgold lodges, I. O. O. F., turned out in large numbers to pay the last sad rites to their deceased brother. Among the attorneys who were present from neighboring counties were: Messrs. J. P. McCartney, W. A. Sudduth and the venerable Judge Andrews, all of Flemingsburg. Rev. D. A. Beardsley conducted the funeral services, and was assisted by Rev. Russell Cecil. At the conclusion of the services at the house, the funeral procession was formed, led by the members of DeKalb and Ringgold lodges, I. O. O. F. At the grave, the Episcopal burial service was read by Rev. D. A. Beardsley, and was followed by the singing of the funeral chime and the depositing of the evergreen by the Oddfellows.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

A called meeting of the Mason County Bar was held in the court house yesterday morning at ten o'clock. Circuit Clerk Ben. D. Parry called the meeting to order and stated that the object was to take some action on account of the death of Judge Phister, who had for more than forty years been an honored and honorable member of the Mason County Bar.

On motion of Mr. George R. Gill, Mr. John G. Hickman was elected Chairman, and on motion of Judge Emory Whitaker Mr. A. M. J. Cochran was elected Secretary.

Mr. L. W. Robertson moved the appointment of a committee on resolutions, whereupon the Chair named W. H. Wadsworth, Hon. R. H. Stanton, Judge Emory Whitaker, Hon. Robt. A. Cochran, James Barbour, Esq., and T. C. Campbell, Esq.

The committee's report was read by Hon. W. H. Wadsworth. In offering the resolutions Mr. Wadsworth paid a feeling and eloquent tribute to Judge Phister's public services, and gave him rank among the leading lawyers of the State.

Mr. Wadsworth was followed by Mr. James Barbour, who spoke briefly of Judge Phister's term as Circuit Judge. Mr. Barbour emphasized the sentiment that Judge Phister had made an honest Judge, and that he excelled as a lawyer, and said his superior had not sat upon the bench in this part of the State. Judge Whitaker spoke tenderly of his friendly acquaintance with the deceased. He said Judge Phister was a man of generous impulses and never cherished hostility; that in the sharp encounters at the bar, if it was cloudy when they parted it was always sunshine when they met. Judge Wall said he was once associated as a partner in the practice of law with Judge Phister, and he accorded to the deceased the rarest learning and legal ability.

Mr. Adair said that in his long and close acquaintance with Judge Phister he had never heard him speak save in the kindest terms of the individual members of the bar. Mr. Hickman closed the remarks with some fitting allusions, and on motion the resolutions were unanimously adopted.

The entire proceedings were characterized with that reverence, which is due on such occasions, and the solemnity of the meeting was deeply impressive. The resolutions were as follows:

Resolved, That the members of the Mason Bar truly deplore the untimely death of E. C. Phister in the maturity of his intellect and the very height of his power to serve his family, his friends and the public.

That as his associates in the labors and contests of the bar, and the witnesses of the vigor, the zeal, the knowledge and the ability he displayed in the performance of his duties as a lawyer, they can justly claim that he had no superior in the circle where he practiced, while he added to the reputation of the Mason Bar, so long and honorably known to the profession of the State;

That his faithful and intelligent service to the public, in the Legislature of Kentucky and the Congress of the United States, and in many ways, entitled him to the long and grateful remembrance of the people whom he served; but that the members of this Bar, with no common pride in the fame of their departed brother, call attention to his career as a Judge—a career marked by all the virtues which grace so high an officer—integrity, patience, diligence, learning, judgment and eloquence.

That their sorrow over the loss of their brother is rendered more poignant by the recollection of the bereaved wife and children, for whom this generous father, an earthly provider, labored so earnestly and long, and to whom the members of this Bar tender their sincere sympathy.

Resolved, That a copy of these proceedings be communicated to the family of our late brother, and to the Mason Court at its next term.

 Resolved, That the members of this Bar will, in honor of his memory, attend the funeral in a body.

A. H. KNOLL is filling an engagement at Garfield Opera House, Wichita, Kan. On his appearance the other evening, the Daily Eagle says he stood high in favor and was several times encored. The Eagle then adds: "Those who have not heard the masters of the cornet can have no idea of its power. In the hands of A. H. Knoll the listener is captivated by a yielding pianissimo and insensibly carried through a maize of brilliant passages, when the artist assumes absolute control of the mind and leads it at will through many pleasing fantastic scenes. Prof. Knoll has not only gained the power of one cotemporary but the neat execution of another while his innate genius has combined the two and added finish with art unknown before. Space does not permit a scientific criticism, which alone can justly compliment one of America's greatest virtuosos."

FOREIGN NEWS NOTES.

A CHINESE FLEET IS OCCUPYING
PORT HAMILTON.

Great Indignation in Naval Circles Over the Report—Germany Advised to Mobilize Her Army—Effects of Editor O'Brien's Visit—Irishmen Waiting for War.

LONDON, May 18.—A report is in circulation here that a Chinese fleet has occupied Port Hamilton with the intention of establishing there a Chinese naval station. This announcement has caused great indignation in naval circles, the majority of the officials in that branch of the service having opposed British evacuation of Port Hamilton at the time of its abandonment by the English as the result of Chinese protests.

The occupation of Port Hamilton by China is a breach of the treaty of 1885, which stipulates that so far as England and China are concerned, Korean territory shall remain neutral, both powers being of course interested in keeping others therefrom.

Vessels Added to the English Navy.

LONDON, May 18.—Three vessels of war have been added to the English navy during the past week, namely: The steel armored turret ship Sanspareil, which was launched at Blackwell; the torpedo cruiser Ragoon, and the composite sloop Buzzard. The Sanspareil is the biggest ironclad ever launched in England. She is to carry two 110 ton guns, besides a powerful subsidiary armament, and will be capable of the speed of seventeen knots. The estimated cost of the vessel is £235,000, but by the time she is finally put into commission the dock yard authorities will almost certainly have brought her cost up to a full million sterling.

Stuck in the Pipe.

LONDON, May 18.—The archdeacon of Winchester, while showing some ladies over the ground of the cathedral a day or two ago, with the object of demonstrating the monstrous size of the pipes of the organ, which was in the course of repair, crept into one which lay on the floor, and then stuck fast in the pipe. As he had the key of the cathedral in his pocket and had locked the door, the situation was somewhat critical. At length, however, the workmen engaged in repairing the organ came back from dinner and extricated the gentleman from his predicament.

Effects of O'Brien's Visit.

LONDON, May 18.—The visit of Mr. O'Brien to Canada for the purpose of agitation is the beginning of a general appeal of the colonies in behalf of Ireland. The Parnellites have taken steps to organize a wholesale descent upon the British colonies for the purpose of appealing to the people to hold meetings, pass resolutions, and in other ways signify their abhorrence of the government's policy of coercion, and at as early a day as possible well known orators will be sent to the more populous of the British dependencies to begin the work.

Projected Tunnel Stopped.

BERNE, May 18.—The projected tunnel through the Simplon Mountain will probably be abandoned, owing to the magnitude of the undertaking and the difficulty experienced in securing sufficient funds to carry on the work. The subvention of Italy, which the projectors of the tunnel with great confidence relied on having been refused, convinced them of the hopelessness of carrying the work through, and it is unlikely that further efforts to obtain financial support will be made.

Irishmen Waiting for War.

LONDON, May 18.—The editor of Vanity Fair says: "I met an Irish friend the other day who had been on a visit to his distressed fatherland. In reply to my inquiry as to how he found things going on over there he said: 'They are getting warm indeed. Men are standing about the towns and villages all day long discussing the coercion bill and waiting for the bloodshed to commence.'"

France Must Take No Advantage.

BERLIN, May 18.—The Kreuz Zeitung and the Berlin Post urge the necessity of Germany mobilizing her army in the event of the Gen. Boulanger's plan being adopted. The Post further recommends the withdrawal of all the reserves and all the horses fit for war purposes from Alsace-Lorraine, for fear the troops may use what they have learned from Germany against Germany herself.

Public Executioner at Cologne Dead.

LONDON, May 18.—The public executioner at Cologne has just died. His coffin, built some years ago was carefully kept in his room. In his will he asked to be buried in his official dress. The Cologne executioner is the only one in Germany who employs the guillotine. In other places the ax or the two handed sword is used.

France Objects Also.
